

From May 17th to 19th, an expert course on WiMMed has taken place in the Andalusian Water Agency in Seville, imparted by the DFH group and devoted to technicians and managers in the Agency. This course has been included in the program of the Institute of Public Administrations, and has succeeded in attracting such a large number of applications that a second edition will be programmed.

<http://www.juntadeandalucia.es/medioambiente/site/web/>