OBJECTIVES

This course is intended to make students achieve a competent user level (C1.2) as described in the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR). Therefore, students will have to review some grammatical topics and consolidate their linguistic knowledge (grammatical, lexical and discursive) and competence at that level.

That implies that at the end of the course students will be able to:

- Understand extended speech even when it is not clearly structured and when relationships are only implied and

COURSE DESCRIPTION

not signalled explicitly.

- Understand a wide range of demanding, longer texts (factual and literary), and recognise their implicit meaning.
- Express themselves fluently and spontaneously without much obvious searching for expressions.
- Use the language in a flexible and effective way for different social, academic and professional purposes.
- Formulate ideas and opinions with precision and relate their contribution skilfully to those of other speakers
- Produce clear, well-structured, detailed texts on complex subjects, showing controlled use of organisational patterns, connectors and cohesive devices and developing particular points and rounding them off with an appropriate conclusion.
- Express themselves in clear, well-structured texts, expressing points of view at some length, write about complex subjects, underlining the salient issues and can select style appropriate to the reader in mind.

CONTENT

1. Theory contents

The theoretical contents of the course will consist in a selection of grammatical topics, which will be also analysed and practised in context. Eastwood (1994), Leech and Svartvik (2002) are essential sources, but also the set coursebook English Hub C1.

1. Nominal clauses; Subject-verb agreement; Comparatives and superlatives. Formal and informal ways of comparing.
2. Mixed conditionals and conditionals without if; Wishes and regrets; Unreal past.
3. Passive structures and the passive with reporting verbs and impersonal report structure (with seem and appear).
4. Past modals of speculation and deduction;-ing and infinitive forms
5. Discourse markers; ellipsis and substitution.

2. Practical contents

Practical sessions will be devoted to the practise of vocabulary and communicative skills, following the course textbook and other printed and online resources.

1. Vocabulary expansion on the following issues:

- Fashion, lifestyle and health: clothes and fashion metaphors, experimenting with prefixes and suffixes, related idioms (unit 1)
- Science, technology and research: conceptual metaphors; related idioms. (unit 4)
- Thinking, learning and the mind. Competition and cooperation: games;related idioms. (unit 5)
- Travelling and adventure, leisure vs work. Three-part phrasal verbs, binomial expressions and related idioms. (unit 6)
- Tourism, culture and heritage; power and social issues (political activism); related idioms (unit 10)

2. Communicative skills:

2.1. reading comprehension and written production (essays), focusing on such aspects as textual organization and the use of discursive markers.

2.2. Oral production and comprehension as well as spoken interaction. The following linguistic functions will be reinforced:

1. Discussing and comparing trends.
2. Discussing hypothetical situations; telling anecdotes and expressing regret.
3. Suggesting solutions to problems; talking about generalisations, expectations and assumptions; planning events.
4. Making speculations about the past; giving a presentation; interviews.
5. Describing problems and discussing how to solve them; persuading people to act.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT GOALS RELATED TO THE CONTENT

Good health and well-being
Sustainable cities and communities
Responsible consumption and production

METHODOLOGY

General clarifications on the methodology (optional)

Methodology: The methodology will be based on practising communicative situations so that students develop their skills and become competent users of English at level C1.2. The acquisition of grammatical knowledge and the expansion of vocabulary will also be promoted through both interactive lectures and practice. Self-study is essential in order to expand vocabulary, and develop, listening reading and writing skills at advanced level.

Attendance is highly recommended to large-group sessions and is compulsory in the small-group sessions (80% of sessions to be assessed on a continuous basis). Students taking the course for second year (repeaters) do not have to meet this requirement, although it is advisable for them not to miss these sessions for the sake of practice.

Part-time students who cannot carry out the activities developed neither in the theoretical nor in the practical sessions of the course will be required to pass a final test at the end of the semester. There will be no methodological adaptations for part-time students but students following this learning modality must contact the lecturer at the beginning of the course.

Assessment will be summative and continuous and requires a positive attitude and active involvement on the student's part.

To pass the course it is necessary to:

- (1) obtain at least 5 points over 10 in the final exam, which will include: a long-answer and short-answer test on Grammar and use of English. The exam is 50% of the global mark.
- (2) obtain at least 5 points over 10 in the following evaluation instruments: oral tasks or test (10%), listening quizzes (10%), and written tasks (20%) which will sum up to 40% of the global mark.
- (3) get at least 4 points over 10 in progress test: 10% of the global mark.

Methodological adaptations for part-time students and students with disabilities and special educational needs

Official part-time students who cannot carry out the activities developed neither in the theoretical nor in the practical sessions of the course will be required to pass a final test at the end of the semester.

There will be no methodological adaptations for part-time students, so students following this learning modality must contact the lecturer at the beginning of the course.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Attendance will be assessed?:

No

General clarifications on instruments for evaluation:

Full-time students:

- Students will be assessed on a continuous basis by means of the five evaluation tools listed below:

1.Final exam: 50%.

It will include short and long-response questions on use of English and grammar explanation.

2.Oral presentations and tasks: 10%

- Students will be assessed for speaking tasks performed in the small-group sessions throughout the course.

3.Listening comprehension tests (real/simulated tasks): 10%

- The average grade will be obtained from at least two listening tests, those in which the student obtained the highest marks.

4.Written activities (essays):20%

- At least two compositions to hand in for correction throughout the course.

5.Progress test (case studies): 10%

- Test on grammatical contents and use of English will be given throughout the course.

First call

Continuous assessment is applied (May or June 2022). If a student fails one or more activities, the global mark in the first call will be FAIL/ SUSPENSO. However, the mark of the activities he/she passed will be kept until the next call in July 2022.

Second call

Students will pass the course if the final mark is 5 or above, regardless of the mark obtained in each part.

It is compulsory to attend 80% of the course sessions. Regular attendance to small-group sessions will be registered and if the minimum is not obtained, continuous assessment (on tasks and test) will not be applied.

Clarifications on the methodology for part-time students and students with disabilities and special educational needs:

Part-time students will be given a final test consisting of two parts:

-Part I: written exam (80%)

a) a clearly written and well structured composition at C1 level (20%);

b) short-answer questions (test on Grammar and Use of English + listening) (60%)

Part II: oral interview on one or several of the topics discussed through the course(20%)

Clarifications on the evaluation of the first extraordinary call and extra-ordinary call for completion studies:

For extra calls (convocatorias extraordinarias) students will have to pass an exam on use of English and grammar (70%), writing (20%) and listening (10%)

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Qualifying criteria for obtaining honors:

A final mark of 9/10, regular attendance and active participation.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

The methodological strategies and the evaluation system contemplated in this Course Description will be adapted according to the needs presented by students with disabilities and special educational needs in the cases that are required.

CONTINGENCY PLAN: CASE SCENARIO A

Case scenario A will correspond to a diminished on-site academic activity due to social distancing measures affecting the permitted capacity of classrooms.

METHODOLOGY

General clarifications on the methodology on case scenario A

A multimodal (hybrid) teaching system will be adopted, combining both on-site and remote classes via videoconference (synchronous) that will be held in the timetable approved by the corresponding Faculty or School. The time distribution of teaching activities (both on-site and remote) will be decided by the aforementioned Faculties and Schools bearing in mind the permitted capacity of classrooms and social distancing measures as established at that time.

Students must obtain a minimum grade of 4 (out of 10) in all the parts of the course in order to calculate the average. To pass the course in the first call (May/June 2022) the final grade must be 5 or above. The parts that were passed with a minimim grade of 5 in the first call will not have to be retaken in the second call.

Second call

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Students will pass the course in this call (July), if the final mark is 5 or above, regardless of the mark obtained in each part.

Assessment in extraordinary calls:

Same requirements as above regarding minimum grade in each assessment tool with percentages distributed as follows:

- 60% Use of English and grammar explanation exam
- 20% Writing task
- 10% Listening task
- 10% Oral test
