OBJECTIVES

In this course, students will learn:

- the difference between general and specialized language;
- basic concepts of contemporary lexicology and terminology, and their applications;
- the difference between a word and a term;
- the difference between types of words;
- how to identify distinct word combinations;
- the information contained in a dictionary and how to use it;
- basic concepts on corpus linguistics and how to use corpus management tools.

CONTENT

1. Theory contents

1. The dichotomy between general and specialized language.
2. The dichotomy between Lexicology/Terminology and Lexicography/Terminography.
3. What is a word? Word vs. term. Types of words.
4. Introduction to Phraseology. Types of word combinations.
5. Words in a dictionary. How to use a dictionary.
6. Introduction to Corpus Linguistics. How to compile a specialized corpus. How to explore corpora.

2. Practical contents

Each unit will be followed by a set of practical exercises where students will be required to actively participate.

SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT GOALS RELATED TO THE CONTENT

Quality education
Decent work and economic growth

METHODOLOGY

General clarifications on the methodology (optional)

The methodology will include explanations and presentations, readings and individual exercises. There is no a coursebook. Instead, students will be provided with materials on the Moodle platform.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Methodological adaptations for part-time students and students with disabilities and special educational needs

Part-time students who cannot attend classes on a regular basis will have to communicate their condition to the teacher at the beginning of the course (during the first two weeks). These students are required to follow the same assessment criteria, so they will have to make all the different tasks proposed in class.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Attendance will be assessed?:

No

General clarifications on instruments for evaluation:

January call

There is no exam in this course. Students' work will be assessed continuously during the semester. There are four main instruments for assessment:

- Case studies (30%): practical tasks completed in class;
- Real tasks (20%): questionnaires on the theoretical contents;
- Project (30%): final written assignment;
- Oral presentation (20%): presentation in class of the final written assignment.

Students need to get a pass in each of the assessment tools separately in order to pass this subject. The marks of the parts that students have passed in the January call will be valid in the following calls.

Other calls: Assessment will be similar to that in the January call.

Qualifying criteria for obtaining HONORS: Students will need to get at least 9 points out of 10 in their final mark. It will be awarded at the teacher's discretion. No more than 5% of the students enrolled in this course will be awarded such a recognition.

Clarifications on the methodology for part-time students and students with disabilities and special educational needs:

Part-time students and students with disabilities and special educational needs will be assessed following the same criteria. However, they will have to communicate their condition to the teacher at the beginning of the course (during the first two weeks) so that they can agree on the dates that best suit the students to fulfill the different tasks.

Clarifications on the evaluation of the first extraordinary call and extra-ordinary call for completion studies:

The same assessment criteria will be applicable in both scenarios.

Qualifying criteria for obtaining honors:

Specified above.

COORDINATION CRITERIA

Tasks deadlines

Tasks performance

The methodological strategies and the evaluation system contemplated in this Course Description will be adapted according to the needs presented by students with disabilities and special educational needs in the cases that are required.

CONTINGENCY PLAN: CASE SCENARIO A

Case scenario A will correspond to a diminished on-site academic activity due to social distancing measures affecting the permitted capacity of classrooms.

METHODOLOGY

General clarifications on the methodology on case scenario A

A multimodal (hybrid) teaching system will be adopted, combining both on-site and remote classes via videoconference (synchronous) that will be held in the timetable approved by the corresponding Faculty or School. The time distribution of teaching activities (both on-site and remote) will be decided by the aforementioned Faculties and Schools bearing in mind the permitted capacity of classrooms and social distancing measures as established at that time.

The methodology will include explanations and presentations, readings and individual exercises. There is no a coursebook. Instead, students will be provided with materials on the Moodle platform.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

CONTINGENCY PLAN: CASE SCENARIO B

Case scenario B will bring about a suspension of all on-site academic activities as a consequence of health measures.

METHODOLOGY

General clarifications on the methodology on case scenario B

On-site teaching activities will be held via videoconference (synchronous) in the timetable approved by the corresponding Faculty or School. Alternative activities will be proposed for reduced groups in order to guarantee the acquisition of course competences.

The methodology will include explanations and presentations, readings and individual exercises. There is no a coursebook. Instead, students will be provided with materials on the Moodle platform.
