

Professor S Zeki, FMedSci, FRS

Curriculum Vitae

Nationality: British
University College London,

---

Educated at University College London (UCL) (1960-1967), studying anthropology, then medical sciences: BSc First Class Honours (1964); PhD. 1967

Previous positions: Professor of Neurobiology (UCL) 1981-2008

Co-Head, Wellcome Department of Cognitive Neurology (UCL)

Current position: Professor of Neuroesthetics (UCL) 2008 -

Visiting Professorships at a number of European and American universities, including Duke University, Stanford University, and the Ludwig-Maximilians University, Munich.

Fellow of: The Royal Society, London (1990); Academy of Medical Sciences, London (1998); Academia Europaea (1991); European Academy of Sciences and Arts (Salzburg) (1992); Foreign member of the American Philosophical Society (1998)

Awards include: Rank Prize in Opto-electronics (Rank Prize Fund, UK) (1992); Betty and David Koetser Foundation Prize, Zurich (1997); King Faisal International Prize in Science (Biology) 2004; Erasmus Medal, Academia Europaea (2008); Aristotle Medal 2011 (World Federation of Psychiatry). Rome Prize 2013 (Atena Onlus).

Given over 50 named lectures, including The Ferrier Lecture (Royal Society) 1995; Humphrey Davy Lecture (Académie des Sciences, Paris (1996); Carl Gustav Bernhard Lecture, Royal Swedish Academy of Science, Stockholm (1996); The Tizard Lecture (Westminster School London (2004).

Honorary doctorates: DSc Aston University 1994; DSc Aberdeen University 2008; MD Athens University 2013; DSc (Veterinary Medicine) Aristotle University, 2015.

Member of a number of many scientific bodies (including the National Science Council of France (1998-2002) and The Scripps Research Institute, California (1992-2012). Past Editor (1997-2003) of The Philosophical Transactions of the Royal Society B