

1ST IBERIAN SYMPOSIUM OF GREEK PHILOSOPHY

ARISTOTLE AND ARISTOTELIANISM

The Iberian Society for Greek Philosophy is organizing the 1st Iberian Symposium of Greek Philosophy on the 25th and 26th of September 2014, at the Faculty of Letters, University of Lisbon.

The event aims to provide space for a philosophical debate of intermediary features and dimension between the four regular seminars which, since the foundation of the Society, in 2000, have gathered annually in Spain and Portugal, and the quadrennial congresses held in 2008 and 2012 in Palma de Maiorca.

The symposium will address the theme Aristotle and Aristotelianism, in what is supposed to be, apart from the delimitation of a study area within Greek philosophy, a tribute to the founder and honorary president of the Society, Tomás Calvo, the author of an influential essay with this title.

We welcome all proposals regarding this theme, namely under one of the following perspectives:

- I: The influence of previous philosophy on Aristotle's thought.
- II: The presence of the Ancient in Aristotle's work.
- III: Topics in Aristotle's philosophy.
- IV: The Peripatos and Aristotelianism in Antiquity.
- V: Ancient and medieval commentators on Aristotle.
- VI: Projection of Aristotle and Aristotelianism in the history of philosophy.

As is understandable, 50% of the papers shall be reserved to themes III and IV.

The event is organized in collaboration with the Philosophy Department of the Faculty of Letters of the University of Lisbon, the Line of Investigation in History of Philosophy of the Centre of Philosophy of the University of Lisbon and the Project for the Annotated Translation of the Complete Works of Aristotle (PTDC/MHC-FIL/3672/2012).

Submitting proposals

Whoever wishes to present a paper, should send an abstract with the length and features indicated below until the 30th of April 2014.
