This course aims to be an introduction, from a legal point of view, to the conceptual groundings and the pillars of the European Internal Market. In order to do so and to fully understand the inner structure of the European Internal Market, this course explores its four fundamental freedoms: the free movement of goods, the free movement of capital (and the Economic and Monetary Union), the free movement of workers and the freedom of establishment and to provide services. Additionally, this course focuses on some of the most relevant Common Policies, which will be selected on a yearly basis.
