

Irene Luque Ruiz, is full professor for Computer Sciences and Artificial Intelligent and she is member of the Department of Computing and Numeric Analysis at the University of Cordoba.

Bachelor of Chemical Sciences in 1981 and Doctor Lecturer in the Computer Sciences in 1995, she is manager in the Software and Knowledge Engineering and Databases research group.

Her teaching responsibilities are Software Engineering, Information Systems and Computational Systems Analysis and Design.

His research activities are oriented to new computational solutions in Chemistry, teaching assitant systems, new teaching methods (EEES), QSPR/QSAR, and many more.

